

A close-up photograph of a white ceramic cup filled with a latte. The coffee has a thick layer of foam on top, with a white latte art design in the center that resembles a stylized leaf or a teardrop. The cup sits on a white saucer, which is placed on a white paper napkin. In the background, a dark wooden table is visible, along with a glass of water and a bottle of water. The lighting is warm and soft, highlighting the texture of the coffee and the smooth surface of the cup.

LANGUAGE IS A FLUID THING

DRINK UP!

Brought to you by the Department of Linguistics