DON'T BE A "GRAMMAR SNOB"

"Proper" grammar is a social construct. Next time you're about to correct someone's grammar, consider your privilege.

'Speak good English'

'No excuses!'

'Actually...'

'I think you meant...'

ABILITY PRIVILEGE

Many people struggle with reading and writing difficulties, such as dyslexia and dysgraphia. Judging grammar can be a way of oppressing those who don't have the same abilities as the general population.
