

2024 Internships- Whatcom Democrats

About the Campaign

Whatcom County is politically competitive, with some of the closest races in the state. The campaign will mobilize hundreds of volunteers to defeat anti-working family ballot measures, advance progressive local initiatives, and elect Democratic candidates up and down the ballot. We've earned a reputation for running the best local party campaigns in Washington State—join us!

What Will You Do?

We're seeking part-time interns. Spring, Summer, and Fall internships are available. This internship is for academic credit, with time commitments based on credit hours.

Essential commitments:

- Complete independent self-paced campaign skills trainings
- Schedule and follow through on internship shifts
- Participate in direct voter contact, voter registration, and volunteer recruitment

Who Are You?

As a successful candidate for the job, you will:

- Approach the internship with a growth mindset, ready to run with new training and feedback
- Bring an enthusiasm for applying existing design skills to the context of electoral organizing
- Be up-to-date with COVID19 and flu vaccinations
- Follow campaign protocols on data security
- Conduct yourself as one of the public faces of the campaign and commit to not speaking to the media on behalf of the campaign without permission of the party chair
- Enjoy working toward and achieving ambitious goals

How To Apply

Apply by sending an email to Zach Cohen at znchome@gmail.com with an attached resume and a paragraph describing your interest. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis.

The Whatcom Democrats are committed to diversity and proactive support for all employees, volunteers, and interns. Whatcom Democrats is an equal opportunity employer and it is Whatcom

Democrats policy to recruit, hire, train, promote and administer any and all personnel actions without regard to gender, race, age, religion, sexuality, and disability.